

INTRODUCTION – Sakina

Good morning respected teacher and dear friends.

When we think about beautiful countries, we often think about nature.
Beauty is not only about modern cities or tall buildings.
Real beauty is found in mountains, rivers, ice, forests, and clean air.
It is also found in culture, food, and the way people live their daily lives.

Some countries are beautiful because nature is still pure there.
The land is clean and the environment is peaceful.
People respect nature and live close to it.
Life in such countries is calm and well balanced.

Beautiful countries also have rich cultures.
People follow traditions and respect their history.
Food is simple, fresh, and healthy.
People are kind, polite, and welcoming.

These countries teach us important lessons.
They teach us to protect nature.
They teach us to live peacefully with others.
They show us that a simple life can also be a happy life.

Now, let us explore two countries that are famous for their natural beauty, peaceful lifestyle, and strong connection with nature.

SWITZERLAND – Nazdana

Switzerland is one of the most beautiful countries in the world.

Location:

Switzerland is located in Europe.
It is surrounded by France, Germany, Italy, and Austria.
It has no sea, but it has many rivers and lakes.
The weather is cool and pleasant in most seasons.

Natural Features:

Switzerland is famous for its natural beauty.
The Alps mountains are very high and covered with snow.
These mountains look beautiful in every season.
There are green valleys and fresh meadows.
The lakes are clear and blue, and the rivers flow quietly.
Lake Geneva is one of the most famous lakes.
The air is clean, and the environment is peaceful.

Culture:

Swiss culture is calm and disciplined.
People respect time and follow rules.
Life is organized and well planned.
There are four main languages spoken in the country.
This shows cultural diversity and unity.

Food:

Switzerland is famous for chocolate.
Swiss chocolate is loved all over the world.
Cheese is also very important in Swiss food.

Fondue is a traditional dish made with melted cheese.
The food is simple, warm, and comforting.

People:

Swiss people are polite and hardworking.
They value peace and privacy.
They respect others and live simple lives.
Because of this, Switzerland feels safe and calm.

ICELAND – Husna

Iceland is another very beautiful country.

Location:

Iceland is an island country in the North Atlantic Ocean.
It is close to Europe but far from crowded cities.
Because of its location, the climate is cold.

Natural Features:

Iceland is famous for its unique nature.
It is known as the land of fire and ice.
There are volcanoes and glaciers in the same country.
Some volcanoes are still active today.
Large glaciers cover much of the land.
There are many powerful waterfalls and hot springs.
At night, people can see the Northern Lights in the sky.
This makes Iceland look magical and special.

Culture:

Icelandic culture is closely connected to nature.
People care deeply about protecting the environment.
They believe in simple and peaceful living.
Stories, legends, and old traditions are very important.
Education and equality are also valued.

Food:

Fish is a common food in Iceland.
People eat fresh seafood like cod and salmon.
Lamb dishes are also popular.
Food is natural and healthy.

People:

Icelandic people are friendly and honest.
They live quiet and peaceful lives.
They respect nature and help each other.
Life there is simple but happy.

CONCLUSION – Sakina

In conclusion, Switzerland and Iceland are truly beautiful countries.
Switzerland is known for mountains, lakes, and peaceful living.
Iceland is known for glaciers, volcanoes, and natural wonders.

Both countries show us the beauty of nature and simplicity.
They teach us to respect the environment and live calmly.
Their cultures, food, and people make them special.

These countries remind us that real beauty is not only what we see,
but also how people live and care for the world around them.

Thank you for listening.
